CALLS ASSESSORS FOR A CONFERENCE

Earl Priest, County Assessor, Announces Representative of State Tax Board Will be Here Tuesday

TO DISCUSS 1921 ASSESSMENT

Notice From Indiana Commissioners Received Here Outlines Rules and Regulations for The Year

A conference of township assessors and their deputies, of Rush county, has been called for next Tuesday at 10 a. m. by Earl Priest, county assessor, who has been notified that James Showater, representative of the state board of tax commissioners, will be here for the purpose of discussing the annual assessment this spring.

The county assessor has received a notice from the state board calling attention to certain rules and regulations regarding the spring assessment promulgated by the board and also referring to all forms of books, schedules, blanks, notices and other papers required to be used in fully carrying out the purposes of the tax law.

These different forms are prescribed—Form No. 3—1921" for individuals, firms, partnerships, unincorporated companies and foreign corporations engaged in manufacturing, merchandising or brokerage business; "Form No. 2—1921" for all domestic corporations, and "Form No. 1—1921", known as the personal property schedule. No copies of the last-named form have been received here, but it is known that it does not go into detail as last year when owners of personal property were compelled to list and place a value on every article of household furniture.

The notice from the state sets forth the following new rule regarding the procedure when a reassessment is desired:

"Under its power to order a re-assessment of real estate in any taxing unit, or units, or of any individual owning real estate, the State Board of Tax Commissioners will receive applications from taxpayers for a re-assessment of real estate at any time prior to the first day of April. An application for re-assessment shall contain 1) the description of the property, (2) the name of the taxing unit wherein it is located, (3) the assessed value, (4) the true cash value of same on March 1st of the current year, (5) waiver of the notice required by the provisions of Section 152 of "An Act Concerning Taxation" approved March 11, 1919, and (6) the approval of the county assessor, county auditor and county treasurer, or any two of these officers of the county wherein such real estate is located.

"On receiving such application duly verified, if approved by the Board, the Board will order a reassessment of the real estate to be made by the proper local assessing

HUGHES TO BE NEXT SECRETARY OF STATE

Harding Says He Will be in Florida and Nothing Will be Done to Make His Stay Unhappy

CONSTRUCTION PUT ON IT

(By United Press)
St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 11.—President-elect Harding announced today that Charles E. Hughes will be his secretary of state. Harding announced Hughes will arrive here within a week.

"I do not intend to do anything that will make his stay in Florida unhappy," Harding said. "You may construe that as you will," he said after a pause.

That is his word and it will leave no doubt in the minds of the newspaper men who have studied him closely, but that the next secretary of state will be Hughes.

A senator close to Harding told the United Press today that Hughes will be the next secretary of state.

BITTER ARGUMENT ON PICKETING BILL

Senators Argue Baxter Measure to Prevent Coercion or Intimidation by Labor Unions

PASSED TO SECOND READING

Bowers Bill Permitting Teaching of German in Elementary Schools Will be Attacked

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—In the midst of the most bitter argument of the senate over the bill to prohibit state picketing, the state senate adjourned for lunch today with no signs when the fight would end.

The bill was introduced by Senator Arthur Baxter of Indianapolis, a manufacturer. It carries provisions for a fine of $10 to $500 and a maximum jail sentence as the penalty.

The argument on the bill started about ten o'clock when it came up for passage and continued until about 12:30 o'clock. Senator Baxter declared the measure is not an anti-picketing bill but that it seeks to prevent picketing that intimidates or introduces fear. He declared at the same time, however, that no picketing is peaceful.

"The purpose of this bill," Senator Baxter said, "is to prevent coercion or intimidation."

"The labor unions are divided on the measure. Some are for it. These are the unions that are opposing picketing."

Senator Nejdil of Whiting replied with a bitter denunciation of the bill.

Without opposition the Bowers bill permitting the teaching of the German language in the elementary schools passed to second reading in the senate, after the author had dragged it from the committee on education.

It is presumed that the enemies of the measure are waiting for it to come up on second reading when they will attempt to strike out the enacting clause. Meanwhile a delegation representing the twelfth congressional district will start to work in behalf of the measure and the American Legion and other organizations will continue their efforts to defeat it.

The morning session of the house of representatives was devoted to consideration of Senator Hartzell's bill increasing the penalty for automobile stealing. The bill was amended so as to retain to the court the right to suspend sentence and to retain to the governor the full right of pardon.

AGAINST DISARMAMENT

Tokio, Japan, Feb. 11.—The diet today defeated the resolution for disarmament by a vote of 225 to 38. The resolution had been introduced by the insurgent wing of the opposition party.

FEW DEMANDS OF INCOME TAX MAN

Taxpayers Calling on Claude M. Barnes, Here For The Week, Average About Fifteen a Day

DIFFERENT THAN ELSEWHERE

Deputy From Internal Revenue Department Will Spend Next Week at Morristown, Carthage, Milroy

Claude M. Barnes, deputy revenue collector from the internal revenue department, who has been spending the week in Rushville for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in computing their income tax, has come to the conclusion that most people in Rushville and vicinity either know how to fill out their income tax blank or else they will not pay any income tax for 1920.

The demands for his services have been very light in comparison with the experience he has had elsewhere. Mr. Barnes stated today that he had not been called on for advice by an average of more than fifteen persons a day, whereas in Shelbyville last week, he assisted four hundred persons in preparing their income tax reports, which was an average of almost seventy a day.

"On the average," said Mr. Barnes, "scarcely more than six or seven persons each day have been taxpayers. Close to a majority of all the people who have sought me out for advice have found that they have no tax to pay. Many of them had their blanks prepared and came to get my O. K. to make sure that they had made no mistake."

Mr. Barnes, who has maintained headquarters during the week at the county recorder's office, will remain until tomorrow night and next week will be spent by him in Morristown, Milroy and Carthage. He will be in Morristown Monday and Tuesday, in Carthage, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and at Milroy Saturday.

Mr. Barnes pointed out that many things enter into the preparation of an income tax report, not the least of which are the changes wrought during the last year by births, deaths and marriages, affect materially income tax returns for the year 1920. Millions of babies were added to family circles, each of whom brings an exemption of $200 in the parents' income tax return.

Boys and girls who have become self-supporting, and whose parents allow them the use of their earnings without restriction, form a new class of taxpayers. Each must file a return and pay on his or her net income if such income was in excess of $1,000.

Widows and widowers who lost their husbands or wives during the year 1920 are especially affected. They are single for the purposes of the income tax law, and are granted only an exemption of $1,000, unless the head of a family. Persons who were divorced or separated by mutual agreement during the year also must consider themselves as single persons.

Widows and widowers are not required to show on their personal returns income of husband or wife up to the date of death. The income of a decedent is considered separately, and a return must be filed by the executor or administrator of the estate. A decedent is entitled to exemption for the full taxable year, based upon his or her status as a single or married person at the time of death.

The status of a taxpayer on December 31, 1920, determines the amount of the exemptions. If on that day the taxpayer was married, and living with husband or wife, claim may be made for the $2,000 exemption. If single, or married, and not living with husband or wife on December 31, the exemption is only $1,000.

The taxpayers' status on December 31 determines also his right to the exemption of $2,000 as the head of a family. If on that date a single person was supporting in his household one or more relatives, he is entitled to the exemption. If his support of such relatives ceased during the year he is entitled only to the $1,000 exemption.

ATTENTION CALLED TO DAY IN SCHOOLS

Pupils Are Reminded of Important Part Played by Abraham Lincoln in Saving Nation

ADDRESS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. J. M. Walker Speaks This Afternoon on Emancipator's Life—Banks Close Saturday

There will be no general observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday in Rushville Saturday, but throughout the county today school teachers were calling the attention of school children to the fact that tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of the "Saviour" of their country.

Programs were held in some schools in the county, but no formal observance was held in the Rushville schools, with the single exception that at the Graham high school building this afternoon, Dr. J. M. Walker, district superintendent of the Methodist church, made a short talk on the life of Lincoln. Many of the traits peculiar to the civil war president, anecdotes he told and incidents in his home and public life have been referred to by school teachers this week in impressing upon children the part Lincoln played in the progress of this country.

The banks will be closed all day because Lincoln's birthday is a bank holiday, but the postoffice will remain open as usual because the day is not classed as a legal holiday by the postoffice department.

Governor Warren T. McCray has issued a proclamation in which he calls on the people of Indiana to observe Lincoln's birthday in a fitting manner.

The proclamation follows: "The most desirable legacy any nation can have is the record of the life and achievements of its renowned citizens. Fortunately, our nation is rich in the wealth of men whose genius and brilliancy have contributed to our national glory.

"Of all illustrious and distinguished persons to whose memory we pay homage, none stands out so conspicuously as does the name of the immortal Abraham Lincoln.

"A man of wonderful ability, of extraordinary tact and surpassed meekness, a man of extreme rugged honesty and inspired wisdom, a leader of men second only to the lowly Nazarene among the great men who have walked upon earth—this was the great Lincoln. Indiana is fortunate, indeed, in having been the home of this great character during the formative period of his youth. We may, therefore, lay claim to contributing in part to the development of those qualities of heart and mind that prepared him for the great work he undertook and so successfully accomplished.

"We are approaching the 112th anniversary of the birth of this great American spirit, and in conformity with the law making this a legal holiday.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren T. McCray, Governor of the state of Indiana, ask the people of this great commonwealth to observe in fitting manner Saturday, Feb. 12, 1921, Lincoln's birthday.

"I suggest that all public offices close on that day and all business be suspended in so far as practical, so that all may pay reverence to the memory of the man whose vision and determination held this country in a time of great crisis as a nation of states, one and inseparable."

ENGINE BREAKS DOWN

An engine on the eastbound C. I. & W. passenger train, due here at 8:44 this morning, broke down near the Hackleman crossing just west of Rushville, and was delayed here two hours while another engine was sent out from Indianapolis. The train carries the bulk of the morning mail, which was late in arriving.

CARRY FIGHT TO THE MEN

Railroads Will Take up Wage Question With Employees Separately

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 11.—Railroad owners will carry the fight to force reduction in wages of unskilled railroad laborers to the employees themselves, it was announced here today.

Failing to obtain satisfaction from the United States labor board which it had asked immediately to abrogate national working agreements, the railroads now plan to turn their efforts on the wage question. According to the plan, the railroads will proceed individually to ask a conference with unskilled employees over wage reductions.

CONGRESS AGAIN MADE THE TARGET

German Propaganda in Form of Letters, Mostly From Western States Reaching Washington

THREE MEASURES URGED

Removal of French Algerian Troops From Germany and Revision of Indemnities and Treaty

Washington, Feb. 11.—Congress is again the target of German propaganda.

Letter campaigns, similar in character but not yet so extensive as the letter writing drives during the early part of the war, are being conducted in various states, principally in the west, for the apparent purpose of stirring congress to the point of going on record for one or all measures, which include:

1—Removal of French Algerian troops from the occupation zone in Germany.

2—Revision and reduction in the German indemnities.

3—Revision of some clauses of the treaty of Versailles to the advantage of Germany.

The bulk of the letters thus far, are an indignant protest against what the writer calls atrocities, alleged to have been committed by the French colonial soldiers (black) upon German women and children and German property in the zone of occupation.

The letters are just like those used in the former propaganda move, bearing similarity in phrasing. They come from the part of the country where German population is most numerous. They demand congressional investigating, in attacks of insurgents looking to the removal of the French colonials.

FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING HUSBAND

Mrs. Inda Meyers Convicted in Jury's Verdict in Indianapolis of First Degree Manslaughter

JURORS OUT OVER 20 HOURS

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Inda Meyers one of the principals in the "crystal gazing" murder case, was convicted of man slaughter by a jury in the criminal court today. The verdict was reached after the jury had deliberated more than twenty hours. The conviction of man slaughter carries a sentence of from two to twenty-one years.

Mrs. Meyers was charged with manslaughter in the first degree for the murder of her husband, Frederick Meyers, in his photographers studio, December 4.

Meyers was a crystal gazer and propounded on new thoughts. Mrs. Meyers laughed at him and her husband sought solace with another woman. She shot Meyers when he came at her with a chair in the photographer's studio, and confessed to the shooting.

30 DEATH TOLL IN GEORGIA TORNADO

List of Fatalities Includes Two White Persons and More Than Score of Negroes

RAIN AFTER WIND STORM

Region Five Miles Long and Half a Mile Wide is Devastated—Wind Plays Freaks

Oconee, Ga., Feb. 11.—The death toll in yesterday's tornado that swept through the Gardner settlement near here, remained today at about thirty. Many of the dead had been sent to nearby points, and scores of the injured were in hospitals at Tennesse and Sandersville. The list of fatalities contained two white persons and more than a score of negroes. A number of the injured, chiefly negroes, were expected to die.

Relief has been sent from Atlanta and nearby towns, and the injured and homeless were being cared for by the Red Cross and civic organizations. Identification of the bodies was slow. It is known that in some cases entire families had been wiped out.

The region visited by the tornado was devastated. Its area was nearly five miles long and a half mile wide, stretching from Gardner almost to Toombsboro. The chief property damage occurred at the plant of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Company, where most of the victims of the disaster were employed. A large part of the plant was destroyed, and millions of feet of lumber scattered for hundreds of yards in every direction.

The wind played many freaks. A school building, in which there were eighty children, was destroyed, but all the children escaped without all more injuries than bruises. Bodies of some of the victims were hurled through the air for great distances and badly mangled.

Scores of houses were razed and giant trees were twisted off, and boards and other objects were blown about as if shot from a gun. Most of the bodies were found in an open field, where they had been carried by some freakish whirl of the wind. Cars were blown from the railroad tracks and fowls stripped clean of their feathers.

A torrential downpour of rain accompanied the wind, and all rivers and streams were reported at flood and still rising today.

A negro mother and child were killed and several small houses blown down by a tornado that hit near the small town of Edie, Ga., 18 miles from Augusta. The tornado is believed to have been a part of the storm which struck Oconee earlier in the day.

SHERIFF'S SALE IS NOT HELD TODAY

Disposal of Property Alleged to be Owned by Jennie Spacey Delayed Until After Hearing

INJUNCTION UP SATURDAY

The sheriff's sale of the personal property of which Mrs. Jennie Spacey claims to be owner, and which was ordered sold in order to satisfy judgment in a former case, was not held today, and the matter of a temporary injunction and restraining order will be heard in the court at nine o'clock in the morning.

Yesterday the plaintiff filed a motion for a restraining order, together with an amended complaint, and the motion was filed without notifying the defendant, Walter E. Smith, and when ready to be heard yesterday was quashed. The plaintiff then filed a motion for a restraining order without notifying the defendant, and the sale was held up until the matter can be adjusted, with the setting of the case for in the morning.

A case set for trial today in which Arslua Curry was the plaintiff and Chase Pea, administrator of the estate of Elijah Pea, defendant, a suit on a claim for $30, was dismissed, when the plaintiff failed to appear and prosecute the action.

GALL STONES

When a non-believer in the Science of Chiropractic is confronted by a patient who has actually recovered from a case of appendicitis or gall stones under Chiropractic adjustments, it makes him sit up and take notice. Invariably he says: "How wonderful! Why it can't be so; I am amazed." They then may begin an investigation of the merits of the twentieth century science (Chiropractic), whose truth is abundantly able to withstand any investigation which may be made.

Famous Strains of Poultry

The best breeds of poultry continue so by careful selection. The finest flock in the world would, in a few years, lose much of its beauty and utility in the hands of a careless breeder. After a breed has become famous, and "all hands" contribute to its care, degeneracy is almost sure to set in. This is true, because the original type is very apt to be overlooked in some of its finer points.

The saying, that a "show-bird" is not a utility bird is not necessarily true, for this point depends entirely on the care exercised by the owner of the flock. All things being equal, as we often say in other matters, the "show bird" is more than apt to be the best all-round general purpose fowl. At this present time however, when men who have worked a great many years to build up an ideal fowl are giving their methods freely to the public—there is very little need of one going wrong in this important work.

Of the many breeds now widely known in this country the Plymouth Rocks, White Leghorns, Rose-Comb White Wyandottes, and Rhode Island Reds are tolerably well agreed upon as standing at the head of the list. After a great deal of careless breeding, the old standard Plymouth Rock is showing its ability to "come back". The White Leghorn has long been known as the egg-factory in the poultry world. This bird is just the least bit aristocratic: It furnishes a dainty white egg for a pampered taste and then refuses to fill a hungry man's stomach when the house-wife has "wrung its neck". The Rose Comb White Wyandotte is the fancier's delight, and because of this fact and also because the "fancier" has but recently entered the "profit" game, this breed has been developed to a very high degree of beauty and shapeliness. There is no mongrel blood in its veins, and it is, in the eyes of many, the most beautiful bird in existence. With proper care, the White Wyandotte is always fat and ready for market from one pound size up to seven pounds. This is an excellent quality in both broilers and "fries", and when one likes a "turkey-dinner" and hasn't the turkey, a well fattened White-Wyandotte hen is the next best substitute. But the most substantial thing of all about this breed is the fact that, when the public demanded eggs the White Wyandotte hen "got busy and laid them". Then—after some one said she was "too fat to lay eggs"—this same hen, "got her dander up and said: "you just give me the right kind of feed and I'll lay all the eggs that any sensible person has any right to expect." So for a number of years the White Wyandotte has run "neck and neck" with the White Leghorn; and it has recently been reported that in 1920 she said to the White Leghorn: "Follow me and you'll wear diamonds".

The Rhode Island Reds are rapidly coming into favor, and because of their great vigor and adaptability are apt to make things interesting for all other breeds. This is an old standard breed in the eastern states and is finding itself very much at home in the valley states.

There are men right here in Rush County trying to furnish breeding stock, at no little expense, to themselves, of these great popular breeds; and it is hard to understand why many persons persist, at this late date, in raising a mixture of Bantams, Langshans, Anconas, Minorcas, Bramas, Hamburgs, Lakenvelders and Speckled Sussex all in one flock to the eternal disgust of persons who love law and order. Jesse Walker Dies in Electric Chair at Sing Sing For Murder of New York Merchant

MANY ATTEMPTS TO SAVE HIM

Former Seaman Keeps Nerves Until Last—Will be Buried Beside Father Who Was Minister

Ossining, N. Y. Feb. 11—Jesse Walker, 20 years old, Evansville, Ind., was executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison last night for the murder of Samuel Wolcack, a Brooklyn stationer whom he tried to rob Nov. 1919. He walked into the death chamber at 11:05 o'clock. Two shocks were administered and he was pronounced dead. His body was removed from the chair at 11:13 o'clock.

Walker, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. A. N. Petersen, Protestant chaplain, entered the death chamber smoking a cigar. Just before the steel door closed behind him, he took the cigar from his mouth and over his shoulder called to the other condemned men in the death house: "Good-by boys, I hope you will all get home."

The body will be prepared for burial and was to be shipped today to Henderson, Ky., where he was born and lived a few years. The body will be buried by the side of his father who was a Baptist minister. The funeral will be without crepe and flowers.

During his last hours Walker frequently read over the contents of three love letters from a girl, identified as "Lillian", and he wrote her a farewell missive to be mailed to Indianapolis. The prison officials would not make public the girl's full name or address.

Walker was cheerful and resigned to his fate. He chatted through the bars of his cell with Maj. Lewis E. Lawes, the warden, after he had been dressed in the death suit of black.

"I know there is no hope for me," said Walker. This was even after he had sent a telegram to the Governor urging him to grant a respite until the case of his accomplice Guy Nichols, to be executed next month, is passed upon.

"I've always been used well by the authorities here" continued the ex-seaman. "I feel badly more on account of my mother than myself. She put up a good fight and did everything she possibly could. I sent her home because I felt this is no place for her."

Although Walker has a brother and seven sisters in the West, no relatives called upon him after his mother, Mrs. Anna Foster of Evansville, left the prison for home five days ago.

Amusements

"Behold My Wife" Tonight

George Melford, the veteran producer, has scored another ten-strike in his production of "Behold My Wife" from Sir Gilbert Parker's famous novel. The picture, which will be shown at the Princess Theatre for the last time today, is the story of the transformation of an Indian maiden of the Canadian Northwest, married in a fit of drunken rage by an aristocratic young Englishman to spite his family, into a beautiful and cultured young woman. Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter, and Ann Forrest are also in the cast.

Mr. Melford is responsible for some of the most notable photoplays of recent years. "Conspicuous among them are "Told in the Hills", with Robert Warwick; the famous morality play, "Everywoman"; Jack London's "The Sea Wolf"; and "The Round Up", starring Roscoe Arbuckle.

Eileen Percy, Husband Hunter

What is declared by critics to be a most amusing screen entertainment is "The Husband Hunter", a comedy in which William Fox is to present his beautiful star, Eileen Percy, at the Mystic Theatre today.

Adapted from F. Scott Fitzgerald's popular story, "Myra Meets His Family," "The Husband Hunter" tells the story of a vivacious young society belle, Myra Hastings, who sets out to capture the heart and hand of a man who at the time is a total stranger. The man, Kent Whitney, hears that she is a chronic husband hunter, and a plot is laid to defeat her plan. How Myra visits Whitney's country home, meets his "parents" and then turns the tables on the plotters is told in exceedingly funny situations, leading up to a surprising climax.

In the cast of clever players Emory Johnson is the hunted man.

Cornbelt Conditions

There may be such a thing as too much pessimism in the air, and this undoubtedly is one of the things which has been afflicting the people of the cornbelt region, of which Rush county may be called an integral part. At least this is the conclusion of the Breeder's Gazette following a careful survey of the whole region.

The Gazette sent members of its staff throughout the middlewest to gather first-hand information about conditions among the farmers as they actually exist. The reports they brought back were very optimistic—that the farming communities were the ones really in good shape, all things being considered. The conclusions of the Gazette were summed up as follows:

"Seventy percent of its farmers are not only solvent but more or less prosperous, twenty-five percent are solvent, but not seriously, and less than five percent are in difficulty."

This is indeed encouraging after the months of wailing and gnashing of teeth which we have heard. The gossip mongers have had their fill and have been helping in the general pulling down and lowering of our morale. This farmer and that farmer have been reported as having failed and nothing but the blackest lies regarding the financial conditions have been painted.

However, there is just as much danger in overconfidence as there is in lack of confidence, but a well regulated commonsense optimism is needed now to bring back normal conditions and the report of the Breeder's Gazette will go a long way towards re-establishing confidence in the minds of the people. But the perpetual optimist is no more to be followed than the all-year-round pessimist, who has some times been described as a fellow who has been compelled to live with an optimist all of his life.

The Gazette review, however, is a happy medium. It is a fair and impartial summing up of the situation in the cornbelt territory, as the following illustrates:

"They (the Gazette's representatives) have visited a score or more of representative urban and rural communities, and find little resembling general disaster. What may have happened in the industrial sections of the east, in the cotton and fruit belts or on northwestern ranges may be another story.

"To assert that conditions are normal even in the middlewest would be as absurd as the contention that average farmers or the great majority of occupants or owners of cornbelt farms are ruined. In a production sense plenty is found everywhere; economically, there is evidence of the post-bellum financial storm and its logical sequence, readjustment; but except in the case of isolated communities and a comparatively small percentage of individuals, the cornbelt is sound. Even in sections of Iowa where 'blue-sky' investment dissipation ran the entire gamut, and land values were 'boosted' to the limit, serenity generally

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11—There is a disposition to use extreme care in approaching legislative action having to do with various proposed plans for regulating this or that business. In accord with a nationwide movement against destructive government interference with certain basic industries that serve the people on vital and necessary lines, such as fuel and food, there is a legislative disposition in Indiana to go slow and to give careful consideration to paternalistic plans embodied in bills offered. A notable example is the bill to place a limit by law upon the rental of dwellings. The law-makers are preparing to give thorough study to all angles of this situation. It is especially desired by all concerned that nothing be done to prevent the building of houses to meet the needs of the people. It is recognized that building will not go forward if agitation or legislation effecting adversely the investment in the building business prevails. The suggestion of bankruptcy on the part of a considerable number of farmers was either ridiculed or resented, and a general disposition to deprecate the seriousness of results of such orgies as a minority has indulged in during the world-wide reconstruction period is manifest.

"The impartial conclusions reached by The Gazette investigators are that no general impeachment of financial recklessness against cornbelt farmers is reasonable; that an insignificant minority participated in the investment dissipation or real estate inflation; that a readjustment of rentals will save many distressed tenants; that the cornbelt has a set of real assets in the huge 1920 corn crop, with a generous hold-over from 1919, and a supply of marketable hogs, but slightly less in numbers and probably fully equal in tonnage to that of 1920. These assets are now being liquidated in an orderly manner, melting congealed credits, restoring a financial equilibrium and slowly but surely putting the agrarian community on its feet; in an economic sense. An overwhelmingly percent of cornbelt farmers have the essential credit, protected by marketable products, thus warranting the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago in making loans to Iowa to an extent of 240 percent above its basic line.

"The cornbelt has checked up, is taking stock, and trimming sails for its new course. Resentment of the abrupt decline in the values of grain and live stock is widespread. Had deflation been uniform this hardship would have been mitigated. As it is, the farmer realizes that he has been for some reason, economic, or otherwise, placed in the van of the depreciation column—a position of decided disadvantage. But the whole community has awakened to a better understanding of conditions and prospects, and by the great majority such conditions are being accepted coupled with the a determination to make the best of the situation. A general understanding now exists that other elements of the population are similarly involved in the readjustment process. 'Blue-sky' purchasing has entirely ceased, land trades are rare, few contracts requiring settlement on March 1, and a steady flow of money from grain and live stock centers is relieving financial stringency."

The left has taken the advice which has recently been so freely given about an honest day's work for a decent wage.

Al Jennings, former bandit who was held up in New York, should escape to the wilds of his native heath in Oklahoma for safety.

is permitted to run wild.

All socialistic proposals, in short are being scrutinized with the utmost care by committees, and it is indicated that a fair hearing will be accorded to all elements on all the big issues pending.

In considering legislation providing for the relocation of the Indiana Reformatory, now at Jeffersonville, the lawmakers are being asked to consider from a humanitarian point of view the well-being and futures of the young men who are in the institution for possible reformation and useful training.

Students of the work being done for the boys at the institution are thoroughly convinced that it would be a serious mistake to merge the Reformatory with the State Penal Farm at Putnamville. There is a radical difference between the Penal Farm and the reformatory in purpose and method. There is a big difference between the average prisoner at the Penal Farm and the average inmate of the Reformatory. In a large sense the Reformatory is a training school for the rebuilding of warped character, for the straightening of twisted youth and for the training of young men for useful careers as 'come-back' members of orderly society. It is generally believed that it would be wrong to mix the two institutions and their populations.

The Reformatory, for very good reasons, it is argued, ought to be placed somewhere near the middle of the State, so as to enable counties in all sections to reach the institution with comparative ease. It is held that a form of say 1,000 acres ought to be connected with the institution, in order that a certain proportion of the inmates might produce on the land the crops that go to make such an institution partly self-sustaining. The plan to merge the Reformatory with the State Penal Farm, however, will be strongly opposed.

Relief at last is being planned for the insane unfortunates of Indiana. Governor McCray is reported to be working out emergency plans and the development of a building program such as the evil conditions urgently demanded. This will be good news to all. The shifting of part of the population at the Central Hospital for the Insane to other hospitals in other parts of the state, is understood to be a first step. This means increased facilities in all the hospitals, under a general plan to give each institution a capacity for 1,200 patients. With the transfer of some 600 patients from the Central Hospital to other institutions it will be possible, it is said, to abandon the fire-trap now being used as a men's dormitory at the Central Hospital. Thereafter, it is planned, a new men's building and an additional women's building will be erected.

The Fire Marshal's office recently reported on the fire trap which is used as a men's building, virtually condemning the structure. Those who have looked the plant over aver that condemnation should have been the policy years ago.

Federal authorities recently have gone over the situation at this hospital on behalf of a number of mentally incapacitated ex-service men there residing. Dr. George F. Edenharter, head of the Central Hospital has been urging year after year that the men's building, built in 1847 was a dangerous fire trap, with an awful tragedy constantly impending under the fire hazard obviously existing there. The human safety argument is getting a hearing at this time, and there is promise that results will follow. In a general way it is understood that colony cottages are to be used in bringing the various hospitals up to a capacity of 1,200 each.

Close observers of the movement to change the primary law are chiefly concerned, not on account of the primary, but because of the possible danger, as they see it, that the State Administration may get out of co-operation accord with a part of the legislature by involving itself in the primary controversy.

Nineteen Senators who favor retention and extension of the primary law as it now stands have gone so far as to call upon the Governor in a body to suggest that the State Administration keep hands off the primary situation. May regard this action on the part of Senators of the Governor's political party as significant in its warning as to the consequences of executive activity for primary repeal. It is indicated that co-operation should be mutual.

There are signs that the advocates of primary repeal are preparing to go into action again soon, with reinforcements supplied by the Republican state organization. It remains to be seen whether the State Administration will be active or merely stand upon the original argument in favor of repeal. Some observers see a factional jam in prospect as the primary issue once more rises to the legislative surface for contentious discussion. Those having important bills on the way are hurrying their measures these days in the hope of getting them passed before the primary controversy reaches that breezy stage where it begins to blow other legislation out the window.

Annual High School Basketball Meets in 32 Cities Will Be Biggest Thing Ever Staged

TOTAL ATTENDANCE IS 45,000

Franklin Will Rank High Again This Year, While Other Teams May Show up in Big Style

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—In early five hundred cities and towns Indiana there are high school basketball teams. These teams in each will meet in a series of tournaments to decide the state high school championship and it will be the tenth annual state contest.

Sectional tournaments will be held in thirty-two cities March 4 and 5. The semi-finals will be played at Bloomington in the big Indiana University gymnasium and at Lafayette in the Purdue University gym March 11 and 12. The championship games will be played in Indianapolis at the big Coliseum at the State Fair grounds March 18 and 19.

The tournaments will be the largest ever held in the United States from a standpoint of the number of teams entered and from the standpoint of attendance. A conservative estimate would place the attendance at the thirty-two district meets March 5 alone at between 40,000 and 45,000.

Last year, Franklin high school won the state championship; Winterville and Crawfordsville, two teams at showed other states the type of basketball played in Indiana prep schools, was far ahead of that played elsewhere, were not in the state high school athletic association then but they are back this year. However, they have lost many of their star players. Franklin also has lost some of its best men, but its recent victory over Anderson could indicate that Franklin is again going to be a factor in the state championship race.

Anderson always develops a team that ranks high and many are picking this year's Anderson team as a champion. Shelbyville has the best team ever developed there. Lebanon has a combination which will lead for state honors. Jefferson high school of Lafayette and Bloomington high school have been showing the class of basketball that wins championships. Martinsville is sure to be a contender.

In Northern Indiana, the Rochester team seems to be a top notch combination. However, there is a team at Whiting that may prove to be the dark horse this year.

"The Yankee Five" independent team from Carthage defeated the Y. M. C. A. team from Newcastle last night on the floor at Carthage, 55 to 23. Carthage had a good lead when the first half ended, 20 to 10. Chambers, center for Carthage, was the individual point getter, and made 15 field goals and 1 foul, or a total of 31 points.

In a curtain raiser the Arlington second independents defeated the Carthage reserves, 22 to 18.

Odd Fellows and High School Expect to Bring Back Victories

Both Rushville basketball teams, the Odd Fellows and the high school varsity, left this afternoon on the Pennsylvania railroad on the same train, the Odd Fellows headed for Columbus and the high school to Shelbyville. Both teams will meet hard games, and each will put up the best effort possible to bring back a win. The Odd Fellows play the Legion team, and have defeated them here, while the high school will attempt to avenge themselves for a defeat given them by the Shelbyville team.

Several rooters accompanied each team. The high school game will begin at 8 o'clock, preceded by a curtain raiser in that city.

PROPOSES A TAX ON ALL ATHLETICS

Commercialized Sports in New York May Be Taxed to Help Pay Government Expenses

HITS THE BIG LEAGUES

Three Major Leagues Made Over Million and a Half Last Year—Will Cause a Stir

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 11.—Highly commercialized sports in New York will be forced to pay a handsome toll toward the maintenance of state government by the new administration, according to the belief in political circles here.

Gov. Miller has announced the intention of calling sport writers of the state together for a conference on the advisability of putting all professional sports in the state under one head and levying a substantial percentage of the receipts to help pay the expenses of government.

From other circles it is learned that while the boxing law will not be fundamentally changed, amendments will be adopted to change its governing body reduce the commercial feature of the sport and increase the state taxes from five to fifteen per cent.

One of the assemblymen recently announced that he would introduce a bill making five dollars the top price of a boxing show.

Cannon Chase, Brooklyn clergyman, who led the fight against the passage of the Walker Bill at the last session of the legislature, also served notice on the governor that he would renew his efforts at this session with a campaign to repeal the boxing bill and the Sunday baseball bill.

The three metropolitan major league baseball teams made close to a million and a half dollars last season without having to pay the tax that is assessed on boxing.

The coming season promises returns of equal proportion and as Gov. Miller's hobby seems to be conservation of public money and increase of the treasury funds it seems very logical that baseball will be forced to help carry the tax payer's burdens.

If admission prices for boxing are limited to a $5 top price and a fifteen or twenty per cent tax is levied on the receipts in addition to the ten percent federal tax, boxing will be voted out just as much as if the Walker Bill would be repealed. Bouts could not be staged under those conditions.

Racing is also due to come in as a greater contributor to the state coffers, it is understood.

Several couples attended the dance given last evening in the K. of P. hall for Knights and their families. Special music was provided for the dancers and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. Clara Bebout was hostess for the members of the Tarry-A-While club this afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. The guests enjoyed the evening socially over various kinds of needlework. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Maggie Mohr delightfully entertained the members of the Pleasant Ridge M. E. Ladies Aid society yesterday afternoon at her home southwest of the city. The regular program and business session was carried out followed by the social hour, during which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Samuel L. Innis entertained the members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church yesterday afternoon at her home in North Perkins street. "Alaska" was the subject for discussion at this meeting. An article was read on the subject after which a general discussion was held. Twenty members of the society were present for the meeting and enjoyed the light refreshments served at the close of the program.

The Yomo Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Curtis Hester in West Tenth street. She was assisted by Mrs. Scott Hosier. A good attendance was present for the meeting, including one guest. Following an important business meeting and a social hour spent in needlework, a delicious one course luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Claude Smith in West Fifth street with Mrs. Howard Ewbank as her assistant, on February 24.

Few Shaggy Towels Will Provide Dress

By "MARJORIE"
(Written for United Press)
New York, Feb. 11.—Turkish towels will be an essential part of Milady's street costume this spring. And if she eschews the shaggy there are garments made from old fashioned huck toweling and even red and blue bordered crash.

This is the edict as sponsored by manufacturers. Fifth Avenue windows are very smart with sport suits developed from both light and heavy weight toweling, barred in white and banded at peplum, collar, and cuffs with gay shades such as rose, tangerine, porcelain blue, jade or topaz.

Other models are barred in these colors and are very gay indeed when worn with little turkish towel turbans to match, with white oxfords flaunting colored laces, and even a handbag to match.

These suits are cut very much as are the earlier spring models of tricotine and garbardine. The majority have the loose, unbelted Eton jacket, although a few basque-like models with shoe string belts of the prevailing color, are worn.

Those suits made from the plain white toweling often have a splash of embroidery on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. The embroidery is done in heavy wooden heads or metallic disks, as only a very heavy embroidery would show from the thick nap of the goods.

Towel effects are equally good in separate skirts and dresses. The skirts are generally cut circular and may have a bias band of contrasting color about pockets and the bottom of the skirt.

A few color effects as especially noted were jade green barred with orange, tangerine with black, blue with gold, black and white, purple and taupe, and cheery and black.

Street and sport dresses developed from toweling are often combined with harmonizing or contrasting organdie, or voile. One striking model is shown of black and white toweling combined with cherry organdie. The organdie is used for the convertible choker collar, a finely tucked vestee, and tight leg O'muton sleeves. The vestee falls over the skirt with hip length front and back panels.

SON ARRESTED FOR A DOUBLE MURDER

Ralph Davis is Accused of Killing His Aged Parents Near Morocco and Burning House

IS LOCATED IN CHICAGO

(By United Press)
Kentland, Ind., Feb. 11.—Indictments charging him with murdering his parents, burned to death in their home January 21, were secretly returned against Ralph Davis, held on an embezzlement charge at Rensselaer, two weeks ago, Sheriff Earl Gardner announced here today.

Gardner planned to serve two warrants charging murder on Davis today. Gardner arrested Davis in Chicago last night after a two weeks search. He found him through letters which Davis had written to friends in Morocco where Davis was employed as treasurer of the Newton county farm bureau.

Gardner left Davis at Rensselaer and returned here to obtain the warrants. Davis was arrested on a charge of embezzlement from the farm bureau. The trial, he said, will be here instead of at Morocco because there is a strong feeling against Davis at Morocco, near where the alleged double murder occurred.

According to Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis both over fifty years of age, were burned while they slept.

STATE'S WITNESS TURNS

Cleveland, Feb. 11.—Miss Mary E. Neely, star witness for the state in the second trial of Judge William H. McGannon, charged with second degree murder for the alleged killing of Harold C. Kagy, on the witness stand for the state today, said Judge McGannon did not kill Kagy, and refused to answer any questions.

officer. Such officer shall assess the said real estate and notify the owner of the amount of the assessment made and such taxpayer, if he is not satisfied, may appear before the County Board of Review at its regular session in June and make such objection as he may deem necessary. If not satisfied with the action of the County Board of Review he may appeal to the State Board of Tax Commissioners as provided in Section 189 of the tax law.

"Any taxpayer desiring a re-appraisal of any real estate where the assessed value of such real estate is less than its full true cash value, shall file an application similar to that herein provided, without a waiver of notice, not later than March 21st. If approved by the Board notice shall thereafter be given and proceedings had as provided in said section 152 of 'An Act Concerning Taxation' approved March 11, 1919."

"The State Board of Tax Commissioners will also receive recommendations of the three county officers herein mentioned or any two of them without the joining of any taxpayer in such recommendation, when it is shown by such officers that a re-assessment of real estate equitable and just valuation, but is necessary in order to maintain an such recommendation shall be made not later than March 21st, and if approved by the Board, proceedings thereafter shall be had as provided in Section 152."

"The State Board of Tax Commissioners reserves the right on its own initiative to order a re-assessment of any real estate as provided in said Section 152."

Rushville Man To Give Program at Greensburg K. of P. Function

Jess Pugh of this city, who is remaining here until the Chautauque work begins in June, has consented to give a program in Greensburg, according to a dispatch from that city, when he will appear Feb. 24 before the Knights of Pythias lodge. The lodge has planned on having a big time on that night, and all members, their wives and young lady friends, have been invited to attend. It is also announced that refreshments will be served following the program.

The Arlington Rebekah lodge will hold a Valentine Social at the Odd Fellows hall in Arlington Saturday night, and the public is invited. Refreshments of ice cream and cake will be served and a small admission will be charged.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while acted. Get the relief and help the mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clear white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin. Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

Have you a Crippled Colon?

Modern medical science says that stagnation in the lower bowel causes more suffering than any other organ. It manufactures enough poison to put heart, kidneys, liver, stomach out of business. To cleanse the system take plenty of hot water and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Made of May-apple, therefore harmless.

South Bend, Ind.—"Ever since I was a boy I have taken Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and consider them the very best liver pill I have ever taken. For constipation, bilious attacks or for sluggish or inactive liver, Pleasant Pellets have no equal. They keep one's system in perfect condition. They are very effective but never cause distress."—Wm. D. Marquess, S. Carroll St.

35 HAVE HOPES OF HOLDING JOBS

White House Force, Democrats and Republicans, Feel Secure in Retaining Their Places

TWO OF THEM ARE WOMEN

Twenty-Two Are Clerks, Nine Messengers and Four Engineers Comprise The List

Washington, Feb. 11.—Clerks, messengers and engineers in the executive offices of the White House feel secure in their jobs even with the swift approach of March 4.

Their total is 35, 22 of whom are clerks, nine messengers and four engineers. When George Christian, President-elect Harding's secretary, visited the White House in December, he inspected the offices and great was the conversational stir upon his departure.

"He's going to cut down the force in line with the policy of economy," said one.

"All the Democrats will be fired sure," volunteered another.

But later the excitement died down and old timers in the offices pointed out the fact that few changes in the personnel are made just because a new President or a new administration comes in. For instance, when President Wilson first assumed control of the White House there were only three changes. Of course a new secretary came in and as Taft's stenographer also left, Charles Swen was appointed. Warren Johnson, the third new man, filled a vacancy that had existed for some time.

It is reported about the offices that Swen will leave the White House with Wilson to assist him in his writings. The President has always shown great favor for Swen and his need for a stenographer upon his return to civil life and the proposed writings is apparent. Other than Secretary Tumulty and Swen, none of the employees have definitely stated their post-inauguration plans have to do with a new position.

It is an interesting fact that only two of the 32 employees are women. With the full enfranchisement of women it is possible they will demand fuller representation in the President's offices. Miss Maude Rogers and Miss Margaret Riorden are the only clerks of their sex officially appointed to the offices now. If they want more feminine company, they haven't yet admitted it.

HARDING DECIDES ON A SWEEPING PROGRAM

Makes Known He Will Control Organizations in The Senate and Recommend Fiscal Legislation

HITS OLD "OLIGARCHY"

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 11.—Plans to organize a new administration group in the senate in which the old senate "oligarchy," including Lodge and Penrose, will play a less important part than formerly, are under way among senators especially friendly to President-elect Harding, it was learned from a reliable source today.

Harding, it was said, has decided to build up an organization of his own in the senate instead of allowing himself to be placed under control of older leaders. Harding also has decided to put forward a sweeping program of fiscal legislation shortly after he assumes office, it was learned. As now contemplated it will include:

- 1—Reduction of excess profits taxes.
 - 2—Refusing of sur taxes.
 - 3—Refunding of the floating indebtedness including liberty bonds and security notes bearing 5 or 5 1/2 percent interest.
 - 4—Possibility of underwriting of loans to foreign governments of these securities instead of issuance of more securities to cover them.
- This program was outlined today as a purely tentative one which is understood to be viewed favorably by Harding.

The Way to Battery Service

Buy a Willard—a Willard Threaded Rubber Battery. That's the first step.

Because the plates are insulated not merely separated. No chance of puncturing, carbonizing, splitting or warping, and no bills for replacement of insulation. It outlasts the plates.

Next—keep your battery charged, and put in water every two weeks.

Finally—drive around twice a month for a battery test. You'll know us by the red Willard Sign.

Ask about the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery.

7 CENT RAISE IN STATE TAX LEVY

Rep. Fifield Announces That Committee Approves of a 27 3/8 Cent Levy This Year

IS SUBJECT TO A CHANGE

Proposed Apportions May be Modified When Levy Goes Before The House For Approval

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The state tax levy will be increased at least 7 3/8 cents if legislation now pending before the general assembly is passed, Representative Fifield, chairman of the house ways and means committee said today. This would make the state levy 27 3/8 instead of 20 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property.

The proposed increase would not be made in one item, but would come about by boosting the levies for different institutions of the state government system. By the increases, the state educational and benevolent institutions, the common schools and the state highway commission would receive more money.

The house of representatives has rejected a proposal to make a still greater increase when it voted against an amendment to the Fifield bill providing a 5-cent levy for the state's three higher educational institutions. The amendment would have made the proposed levy 7 cents.

Likewise a subcommittee of the house ways and means committee agreed to reject a proposal to boost the common school levy to 20 cents and reduced this figure to 7 cents. The ways and means committee has agreed to accept this and it now awaits house action.

The present levy for Purdue and Indiana Universities and the State Normal Schools is 2.8 cents and that for the common schools is 5.6 cents.

Of course, these proposed levies may be reduced still further when they go to the senate, but proponents of the increases say they have no fear that the senators will disapprove the figures set by the house.

The largest increase provided for is probably that of the state highway commission. A bill giving the commission a ten cent instead of a 3.9 cent levy is now in the house ways and means committee and it was said it probably will remain there until a complete policy of taxation is formulated.

It is believed that all the tax bills which will be placed in the hopper are now in the hands of the ways and means committee.

BILL RAISES PAY OF LEGISLATORS

This is Not a Republican Platform or Administration Measure—Members Get $1,000

LIEUT. GOVERNOR GETS $2,000

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—Among the bills enacted by the Senate within the past week which has attracted much attention, is one introduced by Senator Masters of Indianapolis, to increase the salary of the members of the Legislature to $1000 a year. This bill would give the Lieutenant-Governor $2000 a year and the Speaker of the House $8.00 a day, in addition to his salary whenever he is presiding over the House.

It should be understood, however, that this is not a Republican platform or administration measure, although it met with the favor of practically two-thirds of the Senators. It is not denied that a member of the Legislature cannot live in Indianapolis on $6.00 a day. There has been an agitation for a number of years to increase the salaries of the members of the Legislature of Indiana on a par with those of Ohio and other states. The Masters bill does not apply to any member of the present Legislature or to Lieutenant-Governor Brown, who requested that he be left out of it. In event of its passing the House, it would not become effective for four years which removes the charge that the members who are here now are trying to increase their own pay.

GOVERNOR BEHIND DRAINAGE PROJECT

Favors Commission to Confer With Illinois Body Regarding Kankakee River Improvement

BACK WATER DAMAGES FARMS

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Representative Fifield's bill providing for the appointment of a commission to confer with a like body from Illinois on the feasibility of dredging and straightening the Kankakee river has received the approval of Governor Warren T. McCray, it was learned here today.

The bill provides that the commission investigate the proposal to dredge the river, how much such a project would cost and how long a time the task would require.

Senator Will Brown of Hebron, who is sponsoring the bill and who asked Fifield to introduce it in the house of representatives, said that the dredging of the river would reclaim swamp lands in Northern Indiana. There is about a five foot decline in the river at the point where it turns south just a few miles from the state line, Brown said, and this permits the water to back up on the farm lands.

CALLS ASSESSORS FOR A CONFERENCE

Earl Priest, County Assessor, Announces Representative of State Tax Board Will be Here Tuesday

TO DISCUSS 1921 ASSESSMENT

Notice From Indiana Commissioners Received Here Outlines Rules and Regulations for The Year.

A conference of township assessors and their deputies, of Rush county, has been called for next Tuesday at 10 a. m. by Earl Priest, county assessor, who has been notified that James Showwater, representative of the state board of tax commissioners, will be here for the purpose of discussing the annual assessment this spring.

The county assessor has received a notice from the state board calling attention to certain rules and regulations regarding the spring assessment promulgated by the board and also referring to all forms of books, schedules, blanks, notices and other papers required to be used in fully carrying out the purposes of the tax law.

These different forms are prescribed—Form No. 3—1921 for individuals, firms, partnerships, unincorporated companies and foreign corporations engaged in manufacturing, merchandising or brokerage business; "Form No. 2—1921" for all domestic corporations, and "Form No. 1—1921," known as the personal property schedule. No copies of the last-named form have been received here, but it is known that it does not go into detail as last year when owners of personal property were compelled to list and place a value on every article of household furniture.

The notice from the state sets forth the following new rule regarding the procedure when a reassessment is desired:

"Under its power to order a reassessment of real estate in any taxing unit, or units, or of any individual owning real estate, the State Board of Tax Commissioners will receive applications from taxpayers for a reassessment of real estate at any time prior to the first day of April. An application for reassessment shall contain 1) the description of the property, (2) the name of the taxing unit wherein it is located, (3) the assessed value, (4) the true cash value of same on March 1st of the current year, (5) waiver of the notice required by the provisions of Section 152 of "An Act Concerning Taxation" approved March 11, 1919, and (6) the approval of the county assessor, county auditor and county treasurer, or any two of these officers of the county wherein such real estate is located.

"On receiving such application duly verified, if approved by the Board, the Board will order a reassessment of the real estate to be made by the proper local assessing

HUGHES TO BE NEXT SECRETARY OF STATE

Harding Says He Will be in Florida and Nothing Will be Done to Make His Stay Unhappy

CONSTRUCTION PUT ON IT

(By United Press)
St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 11.—President-elect Harding announced today that Charles E. Hughes will be his secretary of state. Harding announced Hughes will arrive here within a week.

"I do not intend to do anything that will make his stay in Florida unhappy," Harding said. "You may construe that as you will," he said after a pause.

That is his word and it will leave no doubt in the minds of the newspaper men who have studied him closely, but that the next secretary of state will be Hughes.

A senator close to Harding told the United Press today that Hughes will be the next secretary of state.

BITTER ARGUMENT ON PICKETING BILL

Senators Argue Baxter Measure to Prevent Coercion or Intimidation by Labor Unions

PASSED TO SECOND READING

Bowers Bill Permitting Teaching of German in Elementary Schools Will be Attacked

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—In the midst of the most bitter argument of the senate over the bill to prohibit state picketing, the state senate adjourned for lunch today with no sign when the fight would end.

The bill was introduced by Senator Arthur Baxter of Indianapolis, a manufacturer. It carries provisions for a fine of $10 to $500 and a maximum jail sentence as the penalty.

The argument on the bill started about ten o'clock when it came up for passage and continued until about 12:30 o'clock. Senator Baxter declared the measure is not an anti-picketing bill but that it seeks to prevent picketing that intimidates or introduces fear. He declared at the same time, however, that no picketing is peaceful.

"The purpose of this bill," Senator Baxter said, "is to prevent coercion or intimidation."

"The labor unions are divided on the measure. Some are for it. These are the unions that are opposing picketing."

Sensor Nejd of Whiting replied with a bitter denunciation of the bill.

Without opposition the Bowers bill permitting the teaching of the German language in the elementary schools passed to second reading in the senate, after the author had dragged it from the committee on education.

It is presumed that the enemies of the measure are waiting for it to come up on second reading when they will attempt to strike out the enacting clause. Meanwhile a delegation representing the twelfth congressional district will start to work in behalf of the measure and the American Legion and other organizations will continue their efforts to defeat it.

The morning session of the house of representatives was devoted to consideration of Senator Hartzell's bill increasing the penalty for automobile stealing. The bill was amended so as to retain to the court the right to suspend sentence and to retain to the governor the full right of pardon.

FEW DEMANDS OF INCOME TAX MAN

Taxpayers Calling on Claude M. Barnes, Here For The Week, Average About Fifteen a Day

DIFFERENT THAN ELSEWHERE

Deputy From Internal Revenue Department Will Spend Next Week at Morristown, Carthage, Milroy

Claude M. Barnes, deputy revenue collector from the internal revenue department, who has been spending the week in Rushville for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in computing their income tax, has come to the conclusion that most people in Rushville and vicinity either know how to fill out their income tax blank or else they will not pay any income tax for 1920.

The demands for his services have been very light in comparison with the experience he has had elsewhere. Mr. Barnes stated today that he had not been called on for advice by an average of more than fifteen persons a day, whereas in Shelbyville last week, he assisted four hundred persons in preparing their income tax reports, which was an average of almost seventy a day.

"On the average," said Mr. Barnes, "scarcely more than six or seven persons each day have been taxpayers. Close to a majority of all the people who have sought me out for advice have found that they have no tax to pay. Many of them had their blanks prepared and came to get my O. K. to make sure that they had made no mistake."

Mr. Barnes, who has maintained headquarters during the week at the county recorder's office, will remain until tomorrow night and next week will be spent by him in Morristown, Milroy and Carthage. He will be in Morristown Monday and Tuesday, in Carthage, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and at Milroy Saturday.

Mr. Barnes pointed out that many things enter into the preparation of an income tax report, not the least of which are the changes wrought during the last year by births, deaths and marriages, affect materially income tax returns for the year 1920. Millions of babies were added to family circles, each of whom brings an exemption of $200 in the parents' income tax return.

Boys and girls who have become self-supporting, and whose parents allow them the use of their earnings without restriction, form a new class of taxpayers. Each must file a return and pay on his or her net income if such income was in excess of $1,000.

Widows and widowers who lost their husbands or wives during the year 1920 are especially affected. They are single for the purposes of the income tax law, and are granted only an exemption of $1,000, unless the head of a family. Persons who were divorced or separated by mutual agreement during the year also must consider themselves as single persons.

Widows and widowers are not required to show on their personal returns income of husband or wife up to the date of death. The income of a decedent is considered separately, and a return must be filed by the executor or administrator of the estate. A decedent is entitled to exemption for the full taxable year, based upon his or her status as a single or married person at the time of death.

The status of a taxpayer on December 31, 1920, determines the amount of the exemptions. If on that day the taxpayer was married, and living with husband or wife, claim may be made for the $2,000 exemption. If single, or married, and not living with husband or wife, on December 31, the exemption is only $1,000.

The taxpayers' status on December 31 determines also his right to the exemption of $2,000 as the head of a family. If on that date a single person was supporting in his household one or more relatives, he is entitled to the exemption. If his support of such relatives ceased during the year, he is entitled only to the $1,000 exemption.

ATTENTION CALLED TO DAY IN SCHOOLS

Pupils Are Reminded of Important Part Played by Abraham Lincoln in Saving Nation

ADDRESS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. J. M. Walker Speaks This Afternoon on Emancipator's Life—Banks Close Saturday

There will be no general observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday in Rushville Saturday, but throughout the county today school teachers were calling the attention of school children to the fact that tomorrow is the anniversary of the birth of the "Savior" of their country.

Programs were held in some schools in the county, but no formal observance was held in the Rushville schools, with the single exception that at the Graham high school building this afternoon, Dr. J. M. Walker, district superintendent of the Methodist church, made a short talk on the life of Lincoln. Many of the traits peculiar to the civil war president, anecdotes he told and incidents in his home and public life have been referred to by school teachers this week in impressing upon children the part Lincoln played in the progress of this country.

The banks will be closed all day because Lincoln's birthday is a bank holiday, but the postoffice will remain open as usual because the day is not classed as a legal holiday by the postoffice department.

Governor Warren T. McCray has issued a proclamation in which he calls on the people of Indiana to observe Lincoln's birthday in a fitting manner.

The proclamation follows: "The most desirable legacy any nation can have is the record of the life and achievements of its renowned citizens. Fortunately, our nation is rich in the wealth of men whose genius and brilliancy have contributed to our national glory."

"Of all illustrious and distinguished persons to whose memory we pay homage, none stands out so conspicuously as does the name of the immortal Abraham Lincoln."

"A man of wonderful ability, of extraordinary tact and surpassed meekness, a man of extreme rugged honesty and inspired wisdom, a leader of men second only to the lowly Nazarene among the great men who have walked upon earth—this was the great Lincoln. Indiana is fortunate, indeed, in having been the home of this great character during the formative period of his youth. We may, therefore, lay claim to contributing in part to the development of those qualities of heart and mind that prepared him for the great work he undertook and so successfully accomplished."

"We are approaching the 112th anniversary of the birth of this great American spirit, and in conformity with the law making this a legal holiday."

"Now, therefore, I, Warren T. McCray, Governor of the state of Indiana, ask the people of this great commonwealth to observe in fitting manner Saturday, Feb. 12, 1921, Lincoln's birthday."

"I suggest that all public offices close on that day and all business be suspended in so far as practical, so that all may pay reverence to the memory of the man whose vision and determination held this country in a time of great crisis as a nation of states, one and inseparable."

ENGINE BREAKS DOWN

An engine on the eastbound C. I. & W. passenger train, due here at 8:44 this morning, broke down near the Hackleman crossing just west of Rushville, and was delayed here two hours while another engine was sent out from Indianapolis. The train carries the bulk of the morning mail, which was late in arriving.

CARRY FIGHT TO THE MEN

Railroads Will Take up Wage Question With Employees Separately

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 11.—Railroad owners will carry the fight to force reduction in wages of unskilled railroad laborers to the employees themselves, it was announced here today.

Failing to obtain satisfaction from the United States labor board which it had asked immediately to abrogate national working agreements, the railroads now plan to turn their efforts on the wage question. According to the plan, the railroads will proceed individually to ask a conference with unskilled employees over wage reductions.

CONGRESS AGAIN MADE THE TARGET

German Propaganda in Form of Letters, Mostly From Western States Reaching Washington

THREE MEASURES URGED

Removal of French Algerian Troops From Germany and Revision of Indemnities and Treaty

Washington, Feb. 11.—Congress is again the target of German propaganda.

Letter campaigns, similar in character but not yet so extensive as the letter writing drives during the early part of the war, are being conducted in various states, principally in the west, for the apparent purpose of stirring congress to the point of going on record for one or all measures, which include:

1.—Removal of French Algerian troops from the occupation zone in Germany.

2.—Revision and reduction in the German indemnities.

3.—Revision of some clauses of the treaty of Versailles to the advantage of Germany.

The bulk of the letters thus far, are an indignant protest against what the writer calls atrocities, alleged to have been committed by the French colonial soldiers (black) upon German women and children and German property in the zone of occupation.

The letters are just like those used in the former propaganda move, bearing similarity in phrasing. They come from the part of the country where German population is most numerous. They demand congressional investigating in attacks of insurgents looking to the removal of the French colonials.

FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING HUSBAND

Mrs. Inda Meyers Convicted in Jury's Verdict in Indianapolis of First Degree Manslaughter

JURORS OUT OVER 20 HOURS

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Inda Meyers, one of the principals in the "crystal gazing" murder case, was convicted of man slaughter by a jury in the criminal court today. The verdict was reached after the jury had deliberated more than twenty hours. The conviction of man slaughter carries a sentence of from two to twenty-one years.

Mrs. Meyers was charged with manslaughter in the first degree for the murder of her husband, Frederick Meyers, in his photographic studio, December 4.

Mrs. Meyers was a crystal gazer and propounded on new thoughts. Mrs. Meyers laughed at him and her husband sought solace with another woman. She shot Meyers when he came at her with a chair in the photographer's studio, and confessed to the shooting.

30 DEATH TOLL IN GEORGIA TORNADO

List of Fatalities Includes Two White Persons and More Than Score of Negroes

RAIN AFTER WIND STORM

Region Five Miles Long and Half a Mile Wide is Devastated—Wind Plays Freaks

Oconee, Ga., Feb. 11.—The death toll in yesterday's tornado that swept through the Gardner settlement near here, remained today at about thirty. Many of the dead had been sent to nearby points, and scores of the injured were in hospitals at Tennesse and Sandersville. The list of fatalities contained two white persons and more than a score of negroes. A number of the injured, chiefly negroes, were expected to die.

Relief has been sent from Atlanta and nearby towns, and the injured and homeless were being cared for by the Red Cross and civic organizations. Identification of the bodies was slow. It is known that in some cases entire families had been wiped out.

The region visited by the tornado was devastated. Its area was nearly five miles long and a half mile wide, stretching from Gardner almost to Toombsboro. The chief property damage occurred at the plant of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Company, where most of the victims of the disaster were employed. A large part of the plant was destroyed, and millions of feet of lumber scattered for hundreds of yards in every direction.

The wind played many freaks. A school building, in which there were eighty children, was destroyed, but all the children escaped with no more injuries than bruises. Bodies of some of the victims were hurled through the air for great distances and badly mangled.

Scores of houses were razed and giant trees were twisted off, and boards and other objects were blown about as if shot from a gun. Most of the bodies were found in an open field, where they had been carried by some freakish whirl of the wind. Cars were blown from the railroad tracks and fowls stripped clean of their feathers.

A torrential downpour of rain accompanied the wind, and all rivers and streams were reported at flood and still rising today.

A negro mother and child were killed and several small horses blown down by a tornado that hit near the small town of Edie, Ga., 18 miles from Augusta. The tornado is believed to have been a part of the storm which struck Oconee earlier in the day.

SHERIFF'S SALE IS NOT HELD TODAY

Disposal of Property Alleged to be Owned by Jennie Spacey Delayed Until After Hearing

INJUNCTION UP SATURDAY

The sheriff's sale of the personal property of which Mrs. Jennie Spacey claims to be owner, and which was ordered sold in order to satisfy judgment in a former case, was not held today, and the matter of a temporary injunction and restraining order will be heard in the court at nine o'clock in the morning.

Yesterday the plaintiff filed a motion for a restraining order, together with an amended complaint, and the motion was filed without notifying the defendant, Walter E. Smith, and when ready to be heard yesterday was quashed. The plaintiff then filed a motion for a restraining order without notifying the defendant, and the sale was held up until the matter can be adjusted, with the setting of the case for in the morning.

A case set for trial today in which Arsula Curry was the plaintiff and Chase Pea, administrator of the estate of Elijah Pea, defendant, a suit of $100, was dismissed when the plaintiff failed to appear and prosecute the action.

LINCOLN

"How the memory of this man moves us for moderation, in mercy, and in justice, the world has offered us no such man. Good, pure, incorruptible—human."

"For years, Abraham Lincoln trod the trail of trouble in darkness and danger. He stood in the black storm surrounded by a doubtful people."

"In all the conflict he showed us how to hate oppression and wrong, and yet not to harbor hatred toward any human, nor malice for any mistake."

"Lincoln held the Stars and Stripes together and made man understand the value of the Union."

"Let us hold in veneration the memory of this man."

GALL STONES

When a non-believer in the Science of Chiropractic is confronted by a patient who has actually recovered from a case of appendicitis or gall stones under Chiropractic adjustments, it makes him sit up and take notice. Invariably he says: "How wonderful! Why it can't be so; I am amazed." They then may begin an investigation of the merits of the twentieth century science (Chiropractic), whose truth is abundantly able to withstand any investigation which may be made.

Famous Strains of Poultry

The best breeds of poultry continue to be by careful selection. The Rhode Island Red in the world, in a few years, lost much of its beauty and ability in the hands of a careless breeder. After a breed has become famous, and "all hands" contribute to its care, degeneracy is almost sure to set in. This is true because the original type is very apt to be overlooked in some of its finer points.

The saying, that a "show bird" is not a "house bird" is not necessarily true, for this point depends entirely on the care exercised by the owner of the flock. All things being equal, as we often say in other matters, the "show bird" is more than apt to be the best, all-around, general purpose fowl. At this present time, however, when men who have worked a great many years to build up an ideal fowl are giving their methods freely to the public—there is very little need of one going wrong in this important work.

Of the many breeds now widely known in this country the Plymouth Rocks, White Leghorns, Rose-Comb White Wyandottes, and Rhode Island Reds are tolerably well agreed upon as standing at the head of the list. After a great deal of careless breeding, the old standard Plymouth Rock is showing its ability to "come back". The White Leghorn has long been known as the egg-factory in the poultry world. This bird is just the least bit aristocratic. It furnishes a dainty white egg for a pampered taste and then refuses to fill a hungry man's stomach when the housewife has "wringing its neck". The Rose Comb White Wyandotte is the fancier's delight, and because of this fact and also because the "fancier" has but recently entered the "profit" game, this breed has been developed to a very high degree of beauty and shapeliness. There is no mongrel blood in its veins, and it is, in the eyes of many, the most beautiful bird in existence. With proper care, the White Wyandotte is always fat and ready for market from one pound size up to seven pounds. This is an excellent quality in both broilers and "fries", and when one likes a "turkey-dinner" and hasn't the turkey, a well-fatted White Wyandotte hen is the next best substitute. But the most substantial thing of all about this breed is the fact that when the public demanded eggs the White Wyandotte hen "got busy and laid them". Then after some one said she was "too fat to lay eggs"—this same hen "got her dander up and said: 'you just give me the right kind of feed and I'll lay all the eggs that any sensible person has any right to expect.' So for a number of years the White Wyandotte has run "neck and neck" with the White Leghorn; and it has recently been reported that in 1920 she said to the White Leghorn: "Follow me and you'll wear diamonds".

The Rhode Island Reds are rapidly coming into favor, and because of their great vigor and adaptability are apt to make things interesting for all other breeds. This is an old standard breed in the eastern states and is finding itself very much at home in the valley states.

There are men right here in Rush County trying to furnish breeding stock at no little expense to themselves, of these great popular breeds; and it is hard to understand why many persons persist in this late date in raising a mixture of Bastards: Langshans, Anconas, Minorcas, Bantams, Hamburgs, Lakenvelders and Speckled Sussex all in one flock, to the eternal disgust of persons who love law and order. Easy Way To Ward Off Cold

It's better to take a few pleasant little tablets and ward off a cold than to pay big doctor bills and lie in bed for days or weeks with pneumonia.

During the fall and winter months when grippe and pneumonia keep the doctors busy, health authorities urge everyone to "Watch out for symptoms of colds and get them right off."

Take no chances. At the first sign of sniffing and sneezing, get a box of Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets and stop the cold within 24 hours. Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets are safe, pleasant, never gripe or sicken. Drug lists guarantee them. Only 25c per box.

EVANSVILLE BOY PAYS THE PENALTY

Jesse Walker Dies in Electric Chair at Sing Sing For Murder of New York Merchant

MANY ATTEMPTS TO SAVE HIM
Former Seaman Keeps Nerves Until Last—Will be Buried Beside Father Who Was Minister

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Jesse Walker, 20 years old, Evansville, Ind., was executed in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison last night for the murder of Samuel Wolcuck, a Brooklyn stationer whom he tried to rob Nov. 1919. He walked into the death chamber at 11:05 o'clock. Two shocks were administered and he was pronounced dead. His body was removed from the chair at 11:13 o'clock.

Walker, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. A. N. Petersen, Protestant chaplain, entered the death chamber smoking a cigar. Just before the steel door closed behind him, he took the cigar from his mouth and over his shoulder called to the other condemned men in the death house: "Good-by boys, I hope you will all get home."

The body will be prepared for burial and was to be shipped today to Henderson, Ky., where he was born and lived a few years. The body will be buried by the side of his father who was a Baptist minister. The funeral will be without crepe and flowers.

During his last hours Walker frequently read over the contents of three love letters from a girl, identified as "Lillian," and he wrote her a farewell missive to be mailed to Indianapolis. The prison officials would not make public the girl's full name or address.

Walker was cheerful and resigned to his fate. He chatted through the bars of his cell with Maj. Lewis E. Lawes, the warden, after he had been dressed in the death suit of black.

"I know there is no hope for me," said Walker. This was even after he had sent a telegram to the Governor urging him to grant a respite until the case of his accomplice, Guy Nichols, to be executed next month, is passed upon.

"I've always been used well by the authorities here," continued the ex-seaman. "I feel badly more on account of my mother than myself. She put up a good fight and did everything she possibly could. I sent her home because I felt this is no place for her."

Although Walker has a brother and seven sisters in the West, no relatives called upon him after his mother, Mrs. Anna Foster of Evansville, left the prison for home five days ago.

Amusements

"Behold My Wife" Tonight

George Melford, the veteran producer, has scored another ten-strike in his production of "Behold My Wife" from Sir Gilbert Parker's famous novel. The picture, which will be shown at the Princess Theatre for the last time today, is the story of the transformation of an Indian maiden of the Canadian Northwest, married in a fit of drunken rage by an aristocratic young Englishman to spite his family, into a beautiful and cultured young woman. Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter, and Ann Forrest are also in the cast.

Mr. Melford is responsible for some of the most notable photoplays of recent years. "Conspicuous among them are "Told in the Hills", with Robert Warwick; the famous morality play, "Everywoman"; Jack London's "The Sea Wolf"; and "The Round Up", starring Roscoe Arbuckle.

Eileen Percy, Husband Hunter

What is declared by critics to be a most amusing screen entertainment is "The Husband Hunter", a comedy in which William Fox is to present his beautiful star, Eileen Percy, at the Mystic Theatre today.

Adapted from F. Scott Fitzgerald's popular story, "Myra Meets His Family," "The Husband Hunter" tells the story of a vivacious young society belle, Myra Hastings, who sets out to capture the heart and hand of a man who at the time is a total stranger. The man, Ken Whitney, hears that she is a chronic husband hunter and a plot is laid to defeat her plan. How Myra visits Whitney's country home, meets his "parents" and then turns the tables on the plotters is told in exceedingly funny situations, leading up to a surprising climax. In the cast of clever players Emory Johnson is the hunted man.

Cornbelt Conditions

There may be such a thing as too much pessimism in the air, and this undoubtedly is one of the things which has been afflicting the people of the cornbelt region, of which Rush county may be called an integral part. At least this is the conclusion of the Breeder's Gazette following a careful survey of the whole region.

The Gazette sent members of its staff throughout the middlewest to gather first-hand information about conditions among the farmers as they actually exist. The reports they brought back were very optimistic—that the farming communities were the ones really in good shape, all things being considered. The conclusions of the Gazette were summed up as follows:

"Seventy percent of its farmers are not only solvent but more or less prosperous, twenty-five percent are bent, but not seriously, and less than five percent are in difficulty."

This is indeed encouraging after the months of wailing and gnashing of teeth which we have heard. The gossip mongers have had their fill and have been helping in the general pulling down and lowering of our morale. This farmer and that farmer have been reported as having failed and nothing but the blackest lies regarding the financial conditions have been painted.

However, there is just as much danger in overconfidence as there is in lack of confidence, but a well regulated commonsense optimism is needed now to bring back normal conditions and the report of the Breeder's Gazette will go a long way towards re-establishing confidence in the minds of the people. But the perpetual optimist is no more to be followed than the all-year-round pessimist, who has some times been described as a fellow who has been compelled to live with an optimist all of his life.

The Gazette review, however, is a happy medium. It is a fair and impartial summing up of the situation in the cornbelt territory, as the following illustrates:

"They (the Gazette's representatives) have visited a score or more of representative urban and rural communities, and find little resembling general disaster. What may have happened in the industrial sections of the east, in the cotton and fruit belts or on northwestern ranges may be another story.

"To assert that conditions are normal even in the middlewest would be as absurd as the contention that average farmers or the great majority of occupants or owners of cornbelt farms are ruined. In a production sense plenty is found everywhere; economically, there is evidence of the post-bellum financial storm and its logical sequence, readjustment; but except in the case of isolated communities and a comparatively small percentage of individuals, the cornbelt is sound. Even in sections of Iowa where 'blue-sky' investment dissipation ran the entire gamut, and land values were 'boosted' to the limit, serenity generally

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11—There is a disposition to use extreme care in approaching legislative action having to do with various proposed plans for regulating this or that business. In accord with a nationwide movement against destructive government interference with certain basic industries that serve the people on vital and necessary lines, such as fuel and food, there is a legislative disposition in Indiana to go slow and to give careful consideration to paternalistic plans embodied in bills offered. A notable example is the bill to place a limit by law upon the rental of dwellings. The law-makers are preparing to give thorough study to all angles of this situation. It is especially desired by all concerned that nothing be done to prevent the building of houses to meet the needs of the people. It is recognized that building will not go forward if agitation or legislation affecting adversely the investment in the building business prevails. The suggestion of bankruptcy on the part of a considerable number of farmers was either ridiculed or resented, and a general disposition to deprecate the seriousness of results of such orgies as a minority has indulged in during the world-wide reconstruction period is manifest.

"The impartial conclusions reached by The Gazette investigators are that no general impeachment of financial recklessness against cornbelt farmers is reasonable; that an insignificant minority participated in the investment dissipation or real estate inflation; that a readjustment of rentals will save many distressed tenants; that the cornbelt has a set of real assets in the huge 1920 corn crop, with a generous hold-over from 1919, and a supply of marketable hogs, but slightly less in numbers and probably fully equal in tonnage to that of 1920. These assets are now being liquidated in an orderly manner, melting congealed credits, restoring a financial equilibrium and slowly but surely putting the agrarian community on its feet; in an economic sense. An overwhelmingly percent of cornbelt farmers have the essential credit, protected by marketable products, thus warranting the Federal Reserve Bank in Chicago in making loans to Iowa to an extent of 240 percent above its basic line.

"The cornbelt has checked up, is taking stock, and trimming sails for its new course. Resentment of the abrupt decline in the values of grain and live stock is widespread. Had deflation been uniform this hardship would have been mitigated. As it is, the farmer realizes that he has been for some reason, economic, or otherwise, placed in the van of the depreciation column—a position of decided disadvantage. But the whole community has awakened to a better understanding of conditions and prospects, and by the great majority such conditions are being accepted coupled with the determination to make the best of the situation. A general understanding now exists that other elements of the population are similarly involved in the readjustment process. 'Blue-sky' purchasing has entirely ceased, land trades are rare, few contracts requiring settlement on March 1, and a steady flow of money from grain and live stock centers is relieving financial stringency.

The fact has taken the advice which has recently been so freely given about an honest day's work for a decent wage.

is permitted to run wild.

All socialistic proposals, in short are being scrutinized with the utmost care by committees, and it is indicated that a fair hearing will be accorded to all elements on all the big issues pending.

In considering legislation providing for the relocation of the Indiana Reformatory, now at Jeffersonville, the lawmakers are being asked to consider from a humanitarian point of view the well-being and futures of the young men who are in the institution for possible reformation and useful training.

Students of the work being done for the boys at the institution are thoroughly convinced that it would be a serious mistake to merge the Reformatory with the State Penal Farm at Putnamville. There is a radical difference between the Penal Farm and the reformatory in purpose and method. There is a big difference between the average prisoner at the Penal Farm and the aver-

"Pape's Diapiesin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapiesin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antidote is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs so little at drug stores.

age inmate of the Reformatory. In a large sense, the Reformatory is a training school for the rebuilding of warped character, for the straightening of twisted youth and for the training of young men for useful careers as 'come-back' members of orderly society. It is generally believed that it would be wrong to mix the two institutions and their populations.

The Reformatory, for very good reasons, it is argued, ought to be placed somewhere near the middle of the State, so as to enable counties in all sections to reach the institution with comparative ease. It is held that a form of say 1,000 acres ought to be connected with the institution, in order that a certain proportion of the inmates might produce on the land the crops that go to make such an institution partly self-sustaining. The plan to merge the Reformatory with the State Penal Farm, however, will be strongly opposed.

Relief at last is being planned for the insane unfortunates of Indiana. Governor McCray is reported to be working out emergency plans and the development of a building program such as the 'evil conditions' urgently demanded. This will be good news to all. The shifting of part of the population at the Central Hospital for the Insane to other hospitals in other parts of the state, is understood to be a first step. This means increased facilities in all the hospitals, under a general plan to give each institution a capacity for 1,200 patients. With the transfer of some 600 patients from the Central Hospital to other institutions it will be possible, it is said, to abandon the fire-trap now being used as a men's dormitory at the Central Hospital. Thereafter, it is planned, a new men's building and an additional women's building will be erected.

The Fire Marshal's office recently reported on the fire trap which is used as a men's building, virtually condemning the structure. Those who have looked the plant over aver that condemnation should have been the policy years ago.

Federal authorities recently have gone over the situation at this hospital on behalf of a number of mentally incapacitated ex-service men there residing. Dr. George F. Edenhart, head of the Central Hospital has been urging year after year that the men's building, built in 1847 was a dangerous fire trap, with an awful tragedy constantly impending under the fire hazard obviously existing there. The human safety argument is getting a hearing at this time, and there is promise that results will follow. In a general way it is understood that colony cottages are to be used in bringing the various hospitals up to a capacity of 1,200 each.

Close observers of the movement to change the primary law are chiefly concerned, not on account of the primary, but because of the possible danger, as they see it, that the State Administration may get out of co-operation accord with a part of the legislature by involving itself in the primary controversy.

Nineteen Senators who favor retention and extension of the primary law as it now stands have gone so far as to call upon the Governor in a body to suggest that the State Administration keep hands off the primary situation. May regard this action on the part of Senators of the Governor's political party as significant in its warning as to the consequences of executive activity for primary repeal. It is indicated that co-operation should be mutual.

There are signs that the advocates of primary repeal are preparing to go into action again soon, with reinforcements supplied by the Republican state organization. It remains to be seen whether the State Administration will be active or merely stand upon the original argument in favor of repeal. Some observers see a factional jam in prospect as the primary issue once more rises to the legislative surface for contentious discussion. Those having important bills on the way are hurrying their measures these days in the hope of getting them passed before the primary controversy reaches that breezy stage where it begins to blow other legislation out the window.

Annual High School Basketball Meets in 32 Cities Will Be Biggest Thing Ever Staged

TOTAL ATTENDANCE IS 45,000

Franklin Will Bank High Again This Year, While Other Teams May Show up in Big Style

By HENRY CLARK
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—In only five hundred cities and towns Indiana there are high school basketball teams. These teams in each will meet in a series of tournaments to decide the state high school championship and it will be the tenth annual state contest.

Sectional tournaments will be held thirty-two cities March 4 and 5. Semi-finals will be played at a home in the big Indiana University gymnasium and at Lafayette in the Purdue University gym March 11 and 12. The championship games will be played in Indianapolis at the big Coliseum at the State Fair grounds March 18 and 19.

The tournaments will be the largest ever held in the United States from a standpoint of the number of teams entered and from the standpoint of attendance. A conservative estimate would place the attendance at the thirty-two district meets March 5 alone at between 40,000 and 45,000.

Last year, Franklin high school won the state championship. Winton and Crawfordsville, two teams at showed other states the type of basketball played in Indiana prep schools, was far ahead of that played elsewhere, were not in the state high school athletic association then but they are back this year. However, they have lost many of their star players. Franklin also has lost some of its best men, but its recent victory over Anderson could indicate that Franklin is again going to be a factor in the late championship race.

Anderson always develops a team that ranks high and many are picking this year's Anderson team as champion. Shelbyville has the best team ever developed there. Lebanon again has a combination which will bid for state honors. Jefferson high school of Lafayette and Bloomington high school have been showing the class of basketball that wins championships. Martinsville is sure to be a contender.

In Northern Indiana, the Rochester team seems to be a top notch combination. However, there is a team at Whiting that may prove to be the dark horse this year.

"The Yankee Five" of Carthage Wins From Newcastle, 55-23

"The Yankee Five" independent team from Carthage defeated the Y. M. C. A. team from Newcastle last night on the floor at Carthage, 55 to 23. Carthage had a good lead when the first half ended, 29 to 10. Chambers, center for Carthage, was the individual point getter, and made 15 field goals and 1 foul, or a total of 31 points.

In a curtain raiser the Arlington second independents defeated the Carthage reserves, 22 to 18.

TEAMS LEAVE TOGETHER

Odd Fellows and High School Expect to Bring Back Victories

Both Rushville basketball teams, the Odd Fellows and the high school varsity, left this afternoon on the Pennsylvania railroad on the same train, the Odd Fellows headed for Columbus and the high school to Shelbyville. Both teams will meet hard games, and each will put up the best effort possible to bring back a win. The Odd Fellows play the Legion team, and have defeated them here, while the high school will attempt to avenge themselves for a defeat given them by the Shelbyville team.

Several rooters accompanied each team. The high school game will begin at 8 o'clock, preceded by a curtain raiser in that city.

PROPOSES A TAX ON ALL ATHLETICS

Commercialized Sports in New York May Be Taxed to Help Pay Government Expenses

HITS THE BIG LEAGUES

Three Major Leagues Made Over Million and a Half Last Year—War Cause a Stir

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 11.—Highly commercialized sports in New York will be forced to pay a handsome toll toward the maintenance of state government by the new administration, according to the belief in political circles here.

Gov. Miller has announced the intention of calling sport writers of the state together for a conference on the advisability of putting all professional sports in the state under one head and levying a substantial percentage of the receipts to help pay the expenses of government.

From other circles it is learned that while the boxing law will not be fundamentally changed, amendments will be adopted to change its governing body reduce the commercial feature of the sport and increase the state taxes from five to fifteen percent.

One of the assemblymen recently announced that he would introduce a bill making five dollars the top price of a boxing show.

Cannon Chase, Brooklyn clergyman, who led the fight against the passage of the Walker Bill at the last session of the legislature, also served notice on the governor that he would renew his efforts at this session with a campaign to repeal the boxing bill and the Sunday baseball bill.

The three metropolitan major league baseball teams made close to a million and a half dollars last season without having to pay the tax that is assessed on boxing.

The coming season promises returns of equal proportion and as Gov. Miller's hobby seems to be conservation of public money and increase of the treasury funds it seems very logical that baseball will be forced to help carry the tax payer's burdens.

If admission prices for boxing are limited to a $5 top price and a fifteen or twenty per cent tax is levied on the receipts in addition to the ten percent federal tax, boxing will be voted out just as much as if the Walker Bill would be repealed. Bouts could not be staged under those conditions.

Racing is also due to come in as a greater contributor to the state coffers, it is understood.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Carrie Barrett of Greenfield, who has been the guest of her son, Merrill Ball, and family in this city, was the guest of Mrs. Sarah Ball and daughter Eva last evening.

Several couples attended the dance given last evening in the K. of P. hall for Knights and their families. Special music was provided for the dancers and a pleasant social evening was enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. Clara Bebeau was hostess for the members of the Tarry-A-While club this afternoon at her home in North Morgan street. The guests enjoyed the evening socially over various kinds of needlework. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Maggie Mohr delightedly entertained the members of the Pleasant Ridge M. E. Ladies' Aid society yesterday afternoon at her home southwest of the city. The regular program and business session was carried out followed by the social hour, during which delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Samuel L. Innis entertained the members of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church yesterday afternoon at her home in North Perkins street. "Alaska" was the subject for discussion at this meeting. An article was read on the subject after which a general discussion was held. Twenty members of the society were present for the meeting and enjoyed the light refreshments served at the close of the program.

The Yomo Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Curtis Hester in West Tenth street. She was assisted by Mrs. Scott Hosier. A good attendance was present for the meeting, including one guest. Following an important business meeting and a social hour spent in needlework, a delicious one course luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clafide Smith in West Fifth street with Mrs. Howard Ewbank as her assistant, on February 24.

Few Shaggy Towels Will Provide Dress

By "MAGGIE"

(Written for United Press)

New York, Feb. 11.—Turkish towels will be an essential part of Milady's street costume this spring. And if she eschews the shaggy there are garments made from old-fashioned huck toweling and even red and blue bordered crash.

This is the edict as sponsored by manufacturers. Fifth Avenue window displays are very smart with sport suits developed from both light and heavy weight toweling, barred in white and banded at peplum collar and cuffs with gay shades, such as rose, tangerine, porcelain blue, jade or topaz.

Other models are barred in these colors and are very gay indeed when worn with little turkish towel turbans to match, with white oxfords having colorful laces, and even a handbag to match.

These suits are cut very much as are the earlier spring models of tricotine and gabardine. The majority have the loose, unbelted Eton jacket, although a few basque-like models with shoe string belts of the prevailing color, are worn.

Those suits made from the plain white toweling often have a splash of embroidery on collar, cuffs, pockets and lapels. The embroidery is done in heavy wooden heads or metallic disks, as only a very heavy embroidery would show from the thick nap of the goods.

Towel effects are equally good in separate skirts and dresses. The skirts are generally cut circular and may have a bias band of contrasting color about pockets and the bottom of the skirt.

A few color effects as especially noted were jade green barred with orange, tangerine with black, blue with gold, black and white, purple and taupe, and cheery and black.

Street and sport dresses developed from toweling are often combined with harmonizing or contrasting organdie or voile. One striking model is shown of black and white toweling combined with cherry organdie. The organdie is used for the convertible choker collar, a finely tucked vestee, and tight leg O'muton sleeves. The vestee falls over the skirt with hip length front and back panels.

SGN ARRESTED FOR A DOUBLE MURDER

Ralph Davis is Accused of Killing His Aged Parents Near Morocco and Burning House

IS LOCATED IN CHICAGO

(By United Press)

Kentland, Ind., Feb. 11.—Indictments charging him with murdering his parents, burned to death in their home January 21, were secretly returned against Ralph Davis, held on an embezzlement charge at Rensselaer, two weeks ago, Sheriff Earl Gardner announced here today.

Gardner planned to serve two warrants charging murder on Davis today. Gardner arrested Davis in Chicago last night after a two weeks search. He found him through letters which Davis had written to friends in Morocco where Davis was employed as treasurer of the Newton county farm bureau.

Gardner left Davis at Rensselaer and returned here to obtain the warrants. Davis was arrested on a charge of embezzlement from the farm bureau. The trial, he said, will be here instead of at Morocco because there is a strong feeling against Davis at Morocco, near where the alleged double murder occurred.

According to Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis both over fifty years of age, were burned while they slept.

WELLS SAYS IT HAS NO EQUAL ON EARTH

"I Just Can't Say Enough For Tanlac," States Indiana Man—Is Like Brand New Man Now

"You can say for me that Tanlac has no equal and that I think it's the greatest medicine ever put in a bottle," said Joseph W. Wells, of R. R. No. 5, South Bend, Ind., while in a leading drug store there.

"The influenza left me in such a terrible rundown condition that I was so weak I could hardly get around. Although I spent 3 weeks at a hospital it failed to do me any good, and one day while I was at my work at the school house everything turned black before me and I fell in a faint and had to be carried home. I didn't have any appetite and what I ate seemed to sour and bloated me up as tight as a drum. My kidneys were all out of order, I was so nervous I couldn't get any rest at night and no one knows the suffering I had to endure; for words fail to describe it. I was simply miserable, and it began to look like I wasn't going to be able to find anything to help me.

"Well, this was the condition I was in when I ran across Tanlac, and I want to say right here the medicine has simply made a new man of me. In fact all my troubles have disappeared and I can't remember the time I felt better than I do now. I just can't say enough for Tanlac, and if you see anybody in need of a good medicine just tell them what Tanlac has done for me.

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manila by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McCarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2.—(Advertisement)

White House Force, Democrats and Republicans, Feel Secure in Retaining Their Places

TWO OF THEM ARE WOMEN

Twenty-Two Are Clerks, Nine Messengers and Four Engineers Comprise The List

Washington, Feb. 11.—Clerks, messengers and engineers in the executive offices of the White House feel secure in their jobs even with the swift approach of March 4.

Their total is 35, 22 of whom are clerks, nine messengers and four engineers. When George Christian, President-elect Harding's secretary, visited the White House in December, he inspected the offices and great it was the conversational stir upon his departure.

"He's going to cut down the force in line with the policy of economy," said one.

"All the Democrats will be fired sure," volunteered another.

But later the excitement died down and old timers in the offices pointed out the fact that few changes in the personnel are made just because a new President or a new administration comes in. For instance, when President Wilson first assumed control of the White House there were only three changes. Of course a new secretary came in and as Taft's stenographer also left, Charles Swem was appointed. Warren Johnson, the third new man, filled a vacancy that had existed for some time.

It is reported about the offices that Swem will leave the White House with Wilson to assist him in his writings. The President has always shown great favor for Swem and his need for a stenographer upon his return to civil life and the proposed writings is apparent. Other than Secretary Tumulty and Swem, none of the employees have definitely stated their post-inauguration plans have to do with a new position.

It is an interesting fact that only two of the 32 employees are women. With the full enfranchisement of women it is possible they will demand fuller representation in the President's offices. Miss Maude Rogers and Miss Margaret Riorden are the only clerks of their sex officially appointed to the offices now. If they want more feminine company, they haven't yet admitted it.

7 CENT RAISE IN STATE TAX LEVY

Rep. Fifield Announces That Committee Approves of a 27% Cent Levy This Year

IS SUBJECT TO A CHANGE

Proposed Apportions May be Modified When Levy Goes Before The House For Approval

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—The state tax levy will be increased at least 7 3/8 cents if legislation now pending before the general assembly is passed, Representative Fifield, chairman of the house ways and means committee said today. This would make the state levy 27 3/8, instead of 20 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property.

The proposed increase would not be made in one item, but would come about by boosting the levies for different institutions of the state government system. By the increases, the state educational and benevolent institutions, the common schools and the state highway commission would receive more money.

The house of representatives has rejected a proposal to make a still greater increase when it voted against an amendment to the Fifield bill providing a 5-cent levy for the state's three higher educational institutions. The amendment would have made the proposed levy 7 cents.

Likewise a subcommittee of the house ways and means committee agreed to reject a proposal to boost the common school levy to 20 cents and reduced this figure to 7 cents. The ways and means committee has agreed to accept this and it now awaits house action.

The present levy for Purdue and Indiana Universities and the State Normal Schools is 2.8 cents and that for the common schools is 5.6 cents.

Of course, these proposed levies may be reduced still further when they go to the senate, but proponents of the increases say they have no fear that the senators will disapprove the figures set by the house.

The largest increase provided for is probably that of the state highway commission. A bill giving the commission a ten cent instead of a 3.9 cent levy is now in the house ways and means committee and it was said it probably will remain there until a complete policy of taxation is formulated.

It is believed that all the tax bills which will be placed in the hopper are now in the hands of the ways and means committee.

BILL RAISES PAY OF LEGISLATORS

LIEUT. GOVERNOR GETS $2,000

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—Among the bills enacted by the Senate within the past week which has attracted much attention, is one introduced by Senator Masters of Indianapolis, to increase the salary of the members of the Legislature to $1000 a year. This bill would give the Lieutenant-Governor $2000 a year and the Speaker of the House $8.00 a day, in addition to his salary whenever he is presiding over the House.

It should be understood, however, that this is not a Republican platform or administration measure, although it met with the favor of practically two-thirds of the Senators. It is not denied that a member of the Legislature cannot live in Indianapolis on $6.00 a day. There has been an agitation for a number of years to increase the salaries of the members of the Legislature of Indiana on a par with those of Ohio and other states. The Masters bill does not apply to any member of the present Legislature or to Lieutenant-Governor Branch, who requested that he be left out of it. In event of its passing the House, it would not become effective for four years which removes the charge that the members who are here now are trying to increase their own pay.

GOVERNOR BEHIND DRAINAGE PROJECT

BACK WATER DAMAGES FARMS

Indianapolis, Feb. 11.—Representative Fifield's bill providing for the appointment of a commission to confer with a like body from Illinois on the feasibility of dredging and straightening the Kankakee river has received the approval of Governor Warren T. McCray, it was learned here today.

The bill provides that the commission investigate the proposal to dredge the river, how much such a project would cost and how long a time the task would require.

Senator Will Brown of Hebron, who is sponsoring the bill and who asked Fifield to introduce it in the house of representatives, said that the dredging of the river would reclaim swamp lands in Northern Indiana. There is about a five foot decline in the river at the point where it turns south just a few miles from the state line, Brown said, and this permits the water to back up on the farm lands.
